Transfer Process Guidelines

Current enrollment in the M-2 class and capacity for the clinical clerkships is reviewed by the Office of Medical Education deans in January of each year to determine if there is capacity for transfer students or students with advanced standing to join the M-3 class in June of the same calendar year.

If there is capacity, students are only accepted after satisfactorily completing the first two years of medical school at an LCME accredited MD granting School of Medicine. Students must have taken and passed USMLE Step 1 with a score at or above the average score for the University of Missouri School of Medicine, as published by the National Board of Medical Examiners for the previous academic year. All transfer students must submit a cv, transcript and letters of recommendation. The packet is reviewed by the co-chairs of the Admissions Committee who determine whether to offer interviews, and, once the interviews are completed, the Admissions Committee determines whether or not to offer a transfer applicant a seat.
