

University of Missouri Department of Emergency Medicine Medical Education and Simulation Fellowship

The Emergency Medicine Medical Education and Simulation Fellowship is a one-year or two-year (with Masters of Academic Medicine) program that will provide emergency medicine physicians with skills, knowledge and experience needed to become leaders in Emergency Medicine Education and Simulation.

Program Highlights

- ACEP/CORD Teaching Fellowship
- Formalized instruction on didactics, bedside teaching, giving feedback and mentorship
- Flexible selective curriculum to meet each fellow's educational and career goals
- Faculty Appointment:
Approximately 8 clinical shifts per month as an attending in our EDs with protected time for professional development.
- Est. salary $105k + benefits

Simulation Training

- Partnership with Shelden Clinical Simulation Center at MU
- Cutting edge simulation technologies including VR/AR/XR
- Resident, Medical student, Faculty, and multidisciplinary simulation curriculum
- Virtual, tabletop, low- and high-fidelity simulation, task trainer development, and annual MCI/Wilderness simulations
- SIMWARS planning and participation opportunities
- Harvard CMS Healthcare Simulation Essentials Course

Contact Information

Fellowship Director: Tim Koboldt, MD, FACEP

Fellowship Coordinator: Ramona Morse

Phone: 573-884-4400

Email: rjmxdh@health.missouri.edu

1 Hospital Drive, DC029.10

Columbia, MO 65212

For more information

